Bad Luck With Your Thinking

© Lyrics and music: Christian Lander, 2026.08.04

1.
It started when you were a little boy
You should have noticed even then
You couldn't get your maths right
Everything was so hard to understand
But you seem to have
A little bad luck with your thinking

2.
You thought you'd go into business
Wanted to make a pile of money
Signed a contract, but made a slight mistake
Then there was nothing left to spare
But you seem to have
A little bad luck with your thinking

3.
So you went into politics
Though you never really understood
Couldn't answer the simplest questions
Everyone mocked you and laughed
But you seem to have
A little bad luck with your thinking

4.
Here you sit now in the care home
Reflecting on the life that's passed
The people you've met and the things you've seen
And the love you've been fortunate to find

5.
Remember when the world stood still
She said yes, and that she wanted you
Who could have ever imagined then
That you'd end up with the loveliest of them all
So it didn’t really matter
If you've been unlucky with your thinking