No darkness, nor light
No day and no night
No wrong and no right
No black and no white
Before beginning of time

Listen to the sound of peace
Echoes between eternities
Nothing filled with everything
As the silence gently sing

No darkness, nor light
No day and no night
No wrong and no right
No black and no white
Before beginning of time

And now – love it self
Opens the door to space
Letting eternity out
For love to grow for eve

Now there is light and it is bright
Now there are shadows in the night
There is cold and there is heat
You find bitterness but also sweet

There is love, there is hate
There is time and we can't wait
Cherish life and don't be late
As we're walking through the door
In the beginning of time

Remember the sound of peace
Echoing between eternities
As love sings for everyone
Before beginning of time

Look, there is a universe for us
He says, as man was born
It's beautiful my dear, she cries
With love and with stars in her eyes
Oh, please, let's make a nest and unite
Let's make love, and prove we are right
Light a fire, and give it life to live
Give it love to give, love to grow
Let's make love that lights that fire
The fire of life, the fire of love

No darkness, nor light
No day and no night
No wrong and no right
No black and no white
