It's complicated

So very difficult

Hate to see you crying

Who am I to hurt you so

Even my own children

Wasn't there to hold them tight

No bed time stories, no more

As I left and walked out the door

It's complicated

So very difficult

It's complicated

You know

It's complicated

So very difficult

It's complicated

You know

It's complicated

So many people

I have failed and let them down

So many times, that I

Didn't do what I knew was right

Want to be a good good man

Where's my honor, down the drain

Is this me, I can't believe

Want to see you smile again

It's complicated

So very complicated

Yes, it is.
